

Songstuff and PnS Concept Offer a Collaboration Platform for Songwriters and Musicians

Glasgow, United Kingdom, Lyon, France - 27 August 2007 - Songstuff and PnS Concept today announced the launching of a new on-demand collaborative service. Named Songstuff On Demand, it provides songwriters and musicians a platform to manage online collaboration, both privately and publicly.

Online collaboration is a growing trend for songwriters and musicians, but e-mailing tracks back and forth suffers from severe limitations. General-purpose file sending services are not secured, and do not provide collaboration features.

Songstuff and PnS Concept worked together to ensure Songstuff On Demand, based on PnS Concept's PnS On Demand, addresses these issues and more. It is fully secured, using 128-bit encryption. It is possible to collaborate with registered as well as un-registered users. Automatic notifications once a track is uploaded or updated ensure smooth and simple collaboration. Once a song is advanced enough, a specific public URL can be provided to early reviewers.

"We are very pleased to be able to provide such an exceptional offer to our members", said Songstuff's founder and experienced musician John Moxey. "It will boost creativity and songwriting opportunities, which is what Songstuff is all about."

"Being able to collaborate with such a respected songwriting site is an exciting opportunity", said Denis Percevault, CEO of PnS Concept. "A music lover myself, it is great knowing our software will help create new songs."

Reserved exclusively for Songstuff members, Songstuff On Demand is priced at 5 euros per month, and offers 1 GB of storage (extensible) with unlimited traffic. Requiring no specific configuration, the service works with any browser on any operating system.
